SANTA FE, N. M., July 88.—An extraordinary find of historic pottery and relics has been made by Earl Morris, excavating pueblo ruins at Aztee, San Juan county, with a force of twenty-five men, for the American Museum of Natural History.

The discovery includes sixty pieces of rare pottery, over 20,000 carved red and black stone beads, baskets, matting, knives, battle axes and other stone implements. Turquoise beads, mosaics and shell ornaments are classed as among the finest ever excavated in the southwest.

Grains of corn with cobs, tassels and husks were found intact, as were also beans and bean pods, pumpkin seeds, pine cones, cotton fiber, yucca leaves, rushes, cotton yarn and cloth, sandals, snowshoes, beaver teeth and bones of animals and human beings. One skeleton, in a sitting position, indicated the man had been decapitated. The find was made in an underground communal dwelling buried for centuries.

Plans for hospitals for all of the six teen cantonments have been completed by the office of the surgeon general, and the work will be commenced by the cantonment division of the quartermaster department and rushed to completer department and rushed to complete selective draft.

All cantonments will have complete hospital facilities, so that any of the 40,000 troops to be stationed in each cantonment can receive at once the best medical care. The hospitals will have, with few variations, thirty-four wards, including two isloation wards. Separate barracks are to be provided for hospital interns and other employes, and special buildings for the administrative offices, power station, operating rooms, kitchen and dining room, chapel and other hospital needs.

It was stated today that these buildings had not been started because of lack of appropriation, but that the Secretary of War, upon being notified that the hospitals must be begun at once, if they are to be ready for the enlisted men, has ordered the work to be rushed immediately, pending further appropriations.
